

Destroyer Officer Guilty Of Neglect

SUBIC BAY, Philippines (AP) — The officer in control of the U.S. destroyer Frank E. Evans when she collided with the Australian aircraft carrier Melbourne was given a reprimand and a reduction in seniority today by a one-man court-martial.

Officer Of Deck
The officer of the deck at the time of the collision, Lt. (j.g.) Ronald C. Ramsey, 24, pleaded guilty to three charges of negligence and dereliction of duty. The Navy dropped four similar charges against him.

In the collision during nighttime maneuvers in the South China Sea on June 3, the carrier cut the destroyer in two, the bow half sank and 74 Americans were lost.

Trial Lasts Day
Ramsey's court-martial lasted one day. Other officers here at the U.S. Navy's Subic Bay base considered his sentence quite light. The maximum penalty on the charges to which he pleaded guilty was dismissal from the service, two years imprisonment at hard labor and forfeiture of pay.

A key witness, the executive officer of the Evans, testified he would be "pleased to have Ramsey under his command and would trust him again as officer of the deck."

Ramsey's chief defense counsel, Capt. Lazar Benrubi, at one point in the trial asked Ramsey: "Had the carrier Melbourne not turned when it did, would you have avoided the collision?"

"Quite easily," Ramsey replied. They were referring to the final seconds before the collision when the carrier veered left in an attempt to avoid the destroyer.

New Regulation Used

Benrubi took advantage of a new military justice regulation which permitted him to ask for sentencing by the judge alone, rather than by the usual five-man military board. After Ramsey pleaded guilty, the purpose of the subsequent testimony was to aid the judge, Capt. James E. Keys, in setting the sentence.

Ramsey, son of a retired Navy machinist's mate, remained expressionless as the sentence was pronounced.

Kidnaping Rap Faces Williams On U.S. Return

LONDON (AP) — American Negro revolutionary Robert F. Williams today won his fight to return to the United States on the airline he bought a ticket from.

Trans World Airlines, which had refused previously to take Williams across the Atlantic, announced it would take him on a special flight. It said the only passengers would be the 44-year-old black power leader's lawyer and an airline security guard.

TWA said it would transport Williams "in response to a request from the U.S. government."

A TWA spokesman in New York said the flight would cost "as much as $20,000" and the airline was paying for it. Williams had accused TWA of breach of contract for not honoring the London-to-New York ticket he had bought, and the American Civil Liberties Union announced Wednesday it was considering legal action against the airline on behalf of Williams.

Informed sources said Williams would leave London Friday.

Williams is going to Detroit. He will face a kidnaping charge in North Carolina from which he fled eight years ago. Since then he has lived in Cuba, Red China and Tanzania.

Suspects Sought In Bomb-Planting At Detroit Airport

DETROIT (AP) — Investigators sought suspects and a motive today for the planting of a time bomb at Detroit Metropolitan Airport.

The explosive charge, two quarter-pound blocks of TNT, was found Wednesday on a remote corner of the airport, far from the passenger and freight terminals but near a fuel-tank farm.

It was discovered by an airlines maintenance employee, who said he saw two men in the vicinity shortly before. The explosive and timer were in a brown box the size of a shoe box. The box was inside a shopping bag.

Bomb squads from Selfridge Air Force Base defused the device about 45 minutes after it was due to go off. Police said a wire had become disconnected from the timer when the bomb was moved to another location.

himself as a moderate who is for order and justice under the law. He says he will not change his philosophy to get support from the conservative groups that backed Miss Beck.

"The office is simply not worth that kind of tactic," he said, adding:

"Crime certainly is the No. 1 issue, but it can only be solved through an even-handed, cooperative approach by the citizens and their government."

Gribbs said the second most serious issue for Detroit is education.

Debate Suggested

Within hours after Tuesday's primary, Austin challenged Gribbs to face him in a series of public debates throughout the city.

Austin said they should discuss the issues on radio, on television, in church basements, in meeting halls and on street corners as often as possible.

Gribbs was not available for comment, having left with his family for a rest at an undisclosed site shortly after the election results became known. Aides said he would respond later.

Racial Overtones Ruled Out In Detroit Mayor Election

DETROIT (AP) — With both candidates pledged to avert a "black vs. white" battle, Detroit's two mayoralty nominees prepared today to wage vigorous high-level campaigns that will avoid racial overtones.

Sifting through a field of 28 candidates, voters selected a Negro county auditor and a white sheriff to face each other in the Nov. 4 general election runoff.

Campaign Promises

Both Wayne County Auditor Richard Austin, 56, and Sheriff Roman Gribbs, 43, promised to keep racism out of the campaign and direct their appeals to all of Detroit, black and white. The city's population is about 40 per cent Negro.

Austin apparently faces an uphill battle in his bid to become Detroit's first Negro mayor, despite the fact that he polled more votes than his opponent in the primary.

Of the 331,152 total votes, Austin got 37.7 per cent and Gribbs 32.9 per cent.

Few White Votes

But an analysis of the returns showed that the Negro auditor received only about 7.6 per cent of the ballots cast in predominantly white areas.

Gribbs and the third-ranking candidate, City Councilwoman Mary V. Beck, captured more than 81 per cent of the vote between them in these areas. In November, the sheriff is expected to pick up most of the votes cast for Miss Beck, who waged a hard line "law-and-order" campaign.

Judge Ordered To Disclose All

WASHINGTON (AP) — Judge Clement F. Haynsworth Jr. has been called on to disclose his outside financial interests before the Senate Judiciary Committee considers his nomination for the Supreme Court.

The request by committee members Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., and Joseph D. Tydings, D-Md., was made amid indications a conflict-of-interest issue may overshadow opposition based on Haynsworth's rulings in civil rights and labor cases.

An aide to Hart confirmed the two senators, neither of whom has taken a public stand on the nomination, have asked for a statement of Haynsworth's corporate interests and outside sources of income from 1963 on.

Haynsworth reportedly is getting the information together in response to the request, relayed through Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., the committee chairman.

It was learned that Haynsworth now chief judge of the 4th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, already has given the committee a statement outlining his role in financing a vending machine company.

This reportedly shows he invested about $3,000 in Carolina Vend-A-Matic in 1950 and disposed of his interest in 1964 for somewhat less than $450,000.

Under Table Payoffs To NCO Units Aired

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army says it is investigating a professional entertainer's list of "specific names and instances" concerning alleged money kickbacks to operators of military clubs in Vietnam.

Kickbacks Reported

The kickbacks were reported by singer-comedian Reuben Noel who said professional entertainers have been required to make under the table payoffs to uniformed managers of noncommissioned officers clubs.

His and other allegations of mishandling of millions of dollars generated by NCO club fees and profits are the current focus of a Pentagon probe being pushed by Defense Secretary

Melvin R. Laird.

Noel said performers have to pay $50 or 10 per cent of their fees, some of which range up to $500 a week, in order to get booking assignments from some NCO club managers.

The Army said it could not release Noel's correspondence because rights of accused persons might be prejudiced. But he was reported to have named several Army sergeants who demanded the kickbacks in Vietnam.

The Washington Star said Noel quoted one noncommissioned officer as commenting: "Now, you're going to face some miserable club custodians who are going to ask you for kickbacks on shows. I know this is going on, and there's not a damn thing I can do about it."

Other Passages

Another Noel passage quoted by the newspaper had a sergeant saying: "Sure, you can work the (deleted) division again. You were great down there. You'll have to pay $50 a show but you can get the same $350 you got last time."

The Army said the details provided by Noel, who lives in Phoenix, Ariz., and who has written Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., about the matter, are being investigated by the command of Gen. Creighton W. Abrams in Vietnam.

No charges have been filed pending outcome of the overall NCO club probe but official sources say a dozen top noncommissioned officers have been linked to possible illegal activities in Europe and Washington as well as Vietnam.

Egypt Strikes Back In Retaliatory Raid

Aerial Crackup Probe Goes On

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Investigation of an aerial smashup which brought death to 83 persons centered today on how an Allegheny Airlines DC9 jetliner and a small private plane got on a collision course within radar range of the city's airport.

"The big plane showed on the radar screen but not the small plane," said Jack H. Frets of the Indianapolis Air Route Control Center.

"This is not uncommon when a plane does not have a transponder or beacon, a device which reflects the radar beams."

The light plane, a Piper Cherokee, did not carry this equipment.

In Washington, Max Karant, vice president of the Aircraft Owners and Pilots Association, said one question it wanted answered was: "Why did the radar see the DC9 and not the Cherokee? Was the radar looking only at, or mainly at, transponder-equipped aircraft? Was it ignoring all other aircraft on the primary radar?"

Duane Jennings, Indianapolis airport chief, said all aircraft within a 25-mile radius of the Weir Cook field normally are kept under radar surveillance. The collision occurred 23 miles from the terminal.

Jennings said both craft were on visual flight rules, there were scattered or broken clouds at 3,000 feet and visibility was 15 miles.

Jennings said that under visual flight rules, avoiding air collision is the responsibility of the pilots.

Yanks, Enemy Step Up Action

SAIGON (AP) — American and enemy forces stepped up operations today following the end of a truce that had quieted the Vietnam battlefield for three days.

U.S. spokesmen said American military activity was increased to meet an "enemy initiative" that included 37 rocket and mortar attacks and two ground assaults shortly after the 1 a.m. end of the Viet Cong cease-fire for the funeral of North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh.

Most of the attacks were in the area from Saigon north to the Cambodian border.

The rocket and mortar attacks wounded 31 Americans, U.S. headquarters said. Four other Americans and 37 enemy troops were reported killed and 16 Americans wounded in ground fighting in the first 12 hours after the cease-fire.

"There's an increase of enemy activity from yesterday, but we do not consider it a high point," said a spokesman for the U.S. Command. "It's a clear resumption of what they have been doing before their cease-fire."

"We're up some, about as much as they are in the level of activity. It's pretty much to meet the enemy initiative."

The allied commands also announced in their weekly casualty report that American casualties dropped 25 per cent last week, the total of enemy dead dropped slightly and South Vietnamese losses rose sharply.

Alaska's 'Black Gold' Brings In Millions

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) —

The world's giant petroleum firms have put up more than $900 million in bids for leases on Alaska's North Slope oil fields, and the money goes to work today drawing almost $45,000 daily interest for the state.

Alaska piled up in the one hour of sealed bidding Wednesday $100 million more than it had spent in the 10 years since it entered the union. Gov. Keith Miller and other state officials said the windfall would put Alaska on the road to financing many needs.

Billionaires Involved

Giant combines involving such billionaires as J. Paul Getty and H. L. Hunt submitted apparent high bids on the choice tracts close to three discovery wells on the coast of the Arctic Ocean—where temperatures hit freezing on the day of the biggest oil lease sale in U.S. history.

The state had the winning checks flown by chartered jet to banks in New York, Chicago and San Francisco so no time would be lost in drawing interest.

179 Tracts Opened

The state opened bids on 179 tracts totaling 450,858 acres of land in the Prudhoe Bay area where the biggest oil field on the North American continent was discovered last year, about 380 miles north of Fairbanks. Unofficially, the top bids averaged $1,965 per acre.

Alaska still has 800,000 acres of oil land to lease, but the governor indicated it is in no hurry to dispose of it now.

Discussion Due Today

State officials put off until today decisions on which, if any, of the bids to reject. Rejections were not expected to alter the total money figure significantly.

Getty and Hunt, two of the richest men in the world, combined with three other oil interests to post the largest single bid—$72.2 million for one 2,560-acre lease. That was $28,233 per acre, the largest per-acre bid ever offered for U.S. oil land.

Seven Planes Reported Down In Air Fight

TEL AVIV (AP) — Egyptian planes raided Israeli forces in the occupied Sinai Desert twice today, and the Israelis shot down seven of the raiders, an Israeli military spokesman announced.

An eighth Egyptian plane was listed as a probable kill, the spokesman said.

150 Egyptians Killed

The Egyptian attacks were in retaliation for the Israeli amphibious raid on Egypt's Gulf of Suez coast Tuesday, in which Israeli troops reported killing 100-150 Egyptians, and an air attack in the same area Wednesday.

The Israeli spokesman gave this account of the Egyptian raids:

Egyptian aircraft first crossed the Suez Canal at 9:30 a.m. and wounded three Israeli soldiers in the northern part of the Sinai desert. Two Egyptian planes were shot down during this raid, one by a U.S. Hawk anti-aircraft missile and one by Israeli planes, while a third Egyptian plane "probably" was downed by anti-aircraft fire.

Planes Cross Canal

At noon, Egyptian planes again crossed the canal and the Gulf of Suez to strike at Israeli forces at Ras el Misalla, 10 miles south of Port Suez, and at an unidentified area along the canal.

The Israeli air force met the raiders, and two MIG21s and two Sukhoi fighter-bombers went down in the dogfights. Another Hawk missile brought down a fifth plane.

No Israel Planes Hit

No Israeli planes were hit and there were no Israeli casualties in the second attack, the spokesman said.

Earlier, Israeli planes struck across the Jordan River into Jordan.

FTC Rapped Over Secrecy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Trade Commission was sharply criticized by one of its own members today as being cloaked in secrecy, bogged down in trivia and lacking in priorities.

"Almost everything the commission does and almost every case it decides is based on stale or inadequate information," added Commissioner Philip Elman.

Elman's criticism was contained in a report by a Senate subcommittee and although he has said as much before, his latest attack set the stage for another chapter in one of Washington's oldest major feuds.

Also appearing in the report by the Judiciary subcommittee on administrative practices were the views of FTC Chairman Paul Rand Dixon and—as has been the custom over the past few years—they were almost diametrically opposed to Elman.

This time, however, the subcommittee has called the five FTC commissioners to a hearing Friday to give their views on the effectiveness of the FTC.

The hearing will be the first in a series on all the regulatory agencies planned by the subcommittee which is chaired by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass.

The FTC report and the hearing take on added significance since President Nixon will be faced later this month with the task of naming a replacement for commissioner James M. Nicholson whose term expires Sept. 25.

There has been no speculation on whom Nixon will name, but he is expected to make the appointee chairman, demoting Dixon to being just a commissioner. Presidents can name regulatory chairmen but cannot remove members.

A separate report on the FTC also is expected this month from the American Bar Association which has been doing a study at Nixon's request.

Community School Challenge To Adults

The old adage "You are never too old to learn" will be tested this fall as adults in various communities around the Upper Peninsula return to school to work on their high school diplomas.

Through the philosophy of the community school, adults in Escanaba are being provided an opportunity to finish their requirements for graduation. The State of Michigan provides the local school districts with the funds to conduct these programs under its "educational opportunity for all" philosophy.

Since 1964, when the state adopted the policy of allowing adults and drop-outs to return, free of charge, countless men and women have set themselves to the task of returning to school on a part-time basis. Over two hundred adults graduated last spring in community education programs around the Upper Peninsula.

The time to pre-register is now. Because the state provides its financial support to the local district in September only, all adults who plan to enroll in adult high school completion courses must register now.

Registration can be made by calling Steve Storey at 786-4659 or in person at the Junior High School, Room 251, 1500 Ludington St. Office hours are 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. in Gladstone call Bob Richards at 425-3321.

Residency, age or past educational experience in no way restricts any adult from the programs. Adults who already possess a high school diploma are also eligible for any of the classes. A small fee is charged to cover the cost of operation.

In Bark River interested persons are invited to call Charles Pearson at HO6-5321.

Salmon Limits Are Reviewed

Size and possession limits for salmon caught in Michigan waters, which have varied since introduction several years ago, were reviewed by Department of Natural Resources officials today in the weekly fishing report.

The daily catch and/or possession limit is five singly and/or in combination with other salmon species or trout. If taken from streams having an open season thereon, five additional brook trout may be taken or possessed daily.

The size limit on all except brook trout is 10 inches. Brook trout taken from the Great Lakes must also be 10 inches. Brookies taken from inland waters, however, may be seven inches.

Salmon may be taken from the Great Lakes at any time, and in most streams from April 26 thru Sept. 30. Certain streams are additionally open for special extended seasons on salmon, steelhead and brown trout.

List 6, available from the DNR offices, lists such waters. Locally, the Delta-Marquette-Alger county waters affected are as follows:

Open through Dec. 31 - Whitefish River, entire main stream; East Branch Whitefish, to bridge in 24, 43-20; West Branch Whitefish, to bridge 26, 43-21; Au Train River to Au Train Lake; Harlow Creek to railroad bridge in 24, 49-26; Huron River to Big Eric bridge in 35, 52-30; Iron River, entire; Laughing Whitefish River to M-28 bridge; Miner's River to falls in 15, 47-18; Rock River to railroad bridge in 22, 47-21; Sand River to County Rd. 480; Sucker River to wier in 3, 49-13.

Open year-around - Bark River to bridge in 14, 37-24; Days River to bridge in 4, 40-22; Sturgeon River to Federal Forest Highway 13 bridge; Carp River to County Rd. 553 bridge; Chocoy River to U.S. 41 bridge; Dead River to dam in 10, 48-25.

Grant Approved

LANSING (AP)—Gov. William Milliken has announced approval of a $320,385 federal anti-poverty grant to the Jackson-Hillsdale Commission on Economic Opportunity for a full-year Headstart program. Some 270 youngsters are to be enrolled in the program and each classroom serving more than 15 children will be staffed by a teacher and three or more teacher aides, the executive office reported.

Unopposed are Fr. Louis Bracket of Menominee, and Francis D'Amour, Escanaba layman.

A vacancy will also occur because of the transfer of Fr. Jordan Telles, O. F. M., from Escanaba, out of the diocese.

Nominations for the election were made by area superintendents, who are advisors to the Diocesan Board.

The Diocesan Board of Education has included laymen for more than three years.

Access Ready At Carp River

When the coho return to the Carp River in Mackinac County this fall, the U. S. Forest Service plans to have a public access for fishermen ready, Hiawatha National Forest Supervisor Al Troutt said.

There have been obstacles present which until only last week seemed to prevent the access to the Carp River and St. Martins Bay from becoming a reality this year. However, thanks to interested people in Mackinac County, boats can be launched at the access site near the mouth of the river and sanitary facilities will be available at the parking area by the end of September.

Forest Service plans for a recreation development at the mouth of Carp River on Lake Huron, which calls for an expenditure of about $750,000, began several months before the Department of Natural Resources planted coho in the stream. Acquisition of the property was time consuming. Title was finally vested in the U. S. Government in July of this year.

When title to the property was assured, a contract was let to Frank Huyck of Pickford to build an access road and parking lot. Work is still in progress and barring unforeseen problems the access road should be completed by the end of September.

This is only part of the story. While funds were available for the road the Forest Service received no funds this year for the boat launching access, toilets, or other facilities. "It was discouraging indeed," said Supervisor Troutt, "to find that our efforts of the past two and a half years were so close to a successful conclusion but yet so far from reality."

Then things turned for the better. County Board Chairman Harold Dettman offered to supply the necessary gravel and the cash for coho organization will provide the funds necessary to hire a dragline. Other materials and labor will be contributed to add the final touches to complete the boat access and sanitary facilities.

Catholic School Boards To Elect Diocesan Board

Catholic School Boards have begun casting ballots in the first Diocesan Board of Education election, to be completed before the Oct. 4 meeting of the peninsula-wide Catholic Board.

The Diocesan board includes seven priests, seven laymen and two nuns—a clergyman and a layman from each of seven deaneries. One third of the board will be up for election each year. Catholic boards of education within the diocese will vote as units.

Contests this year include: Sault Ste. Marie Deanery—Fr. James Challancin of the Sault and Fr. David Rocheleau of Newberry for the clergy post; Bernard Doll of Dafer, Frank Furlong of Newberry and George Theut of St. Ignace, for the laity post.

Houghton Deanery—Edward Clements of L'Anse, Paul Hainault of Houghton and Robert Stebler of Hubbell, for the layman's post.

Unopposed are Fr. Louis Bracket of Menominee, and Francis D'Amour, Escanaba layman.

A vacancy will also occur because of the transfer of Fr. Jordan Telles, O. F. M., from Escanaba, out of the diocese.

Nominations for the election were made by area superintendents, who are advisors to the Diocesan Board.

September Is Lawn Care Time

EAST LANSING (AP)—A Michigan State University expert warns lawn growers that fertilization and dethatching in early September and removal of leaves soon after they fall are "critical" to good fall lawn care.

Fertilization early this month will enhance turfgrass growth during the cooler temperatures of the fall and insure maximum recovery from any thinning caused by heat, drought and diseases, says Dr. James Beard a turfgrass researcher.

"But you should avoid late fall fertilization, because it stimulates growth of leaf tissues and increases the chances for winter injury by low temperature, discoloration and snow mold diseases," he adds.

"You can fertilize after grass growth has ceased without reducing winter hardiness. This practice will stimulate your early spring growth."

Dethatching turfgrass areas is best practiced in late August or early September in order to allow enough time for the turf to recover during the fall, he says.

Steps should be taken to remove thatch, the accumulation of dead grass stems and roots, whenever the accumulation exceeds one-half inch on Kentucky bluegrass.

Beard says removal of thatch will help prevent disease and damage from heat, drought and cold.

During late fall, he adds, leaves should be removed immediately from turfgrass areas. This is particularly important for grasses growing under shaded conditions, because the leaves can screen out available light and cause thinning of the turf.

Although limited to a crawl, lobsters have been known to travel 97 miles in 27 days.

A Leader Lost

He was a man of many words, most of them polysyllabic and all of them delivered in mellifluous tones. This rich voice and the choice words he uttered made Everett McKinley Dirksen the most colorful figure in the United States Senate. As a young man in his home town of Pekin, Ill., he played in amateur theatricals, but he was destined for a bigger stage. He found it in the Senate, where his histrionic talent and his great gift of old-fashioned oratory were put to frequent and effective use. Elected to the Senate in 1950, he served for the last 10 years as Republican minority leader of that institution. One of his aides, incidentally, has been Oliver J. (Bubs) Pompiere, a former Negaunee resident. Prior to serving in the Senate, Mr. Dirksen had served seven consecutive terms in the House. On the occasion of his departure from the House, Sam Rayburn, Democratic leader from Texas, remarked, "If they are going to send Republicans to Congress, let them send Republicans of the Everett Dirksen kind."

Following Sen. Dirksen's death Sunday at the age of 69, similar expressions of esteem were made by Democrats and Republicans alike. It was easy to disagree with Sen. Dirksen, but it was not easy to dislike him. Partly this was because he had that quality that is so often lacking in a politician—a genuine sense of humor. For instance: "Overemphasis," he once said, "reminds me of the preacher who sprinkled the margins of his sermon with instructions addressed to himself — cues like 'argument weak here; shout like hell.'"

Speaking of a fellow senator who spoke too much, Sen. Dirksen said, "I shall invoke upon him every condign imprecation..." Ideologically, the senator from Illinois was a conservative of the first rank. He supported the late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy in the Wisconsin senator's dispute with the Army. He led a movement to attempt to upset the Supreme Court's one-man, one-vote ruling on reapportionment of legislative bodies. He backed President Johnson's Vietnam policy all the way. He was closely identified with the American Medical Association and succeeded in defeating Welfare Secretary Robert H. Finch's effort to appoint Dr. John Knowles, who was opposed by the AMA, to an undersecretary's post.

But he also fought for some liberal causes, including the nuclear test ban treaty, bonds for the United Nations and civil rights legislation. He helped draft and pass the civil rights bill of 1964 and helped draw up a voting rights bill in 1965.

Sen. Dirksen's death will not change the partisan composition of the Senate. His successor will be appointed by Illinois Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie, a Republican. The appointee will serve until November 1970, when an election will be held to fill the remaining four years of Sen. Dirksen's term.

But his death may change the direction of his party in the Senate. The Republican rated most likely to succeed Sen. Dirksen as minority leader is Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, the GOP whip. Scott is as liberal as Dirksen was conservative.

And his death certainly will change the atmosphere of the Senate. The Shakespearean phrases are gone, along with the celebrated wit and dramatic style. But the legend remains.

Oswald's Benefactor

The State Department official who helped President Kennedy's assassin, Lee Harvey Oswald, return to the United States from the Soviet Union in 1961 has just been promoted to an important diplomatic post.

According to Washington correspondent Paul Scott, career Foreign Service officer Boris H. Klosson has been appointed deputy chief of the American mission in Moscow, a highly sensitive position in which he handles all messages sent to Washington.

It was Klosson who in 1961 recommended that Oswald, a defector, be permitted to return to the United States. Klosson's opinion was that Oswald posed no danger to American security.

Two years later Oswald assassinated John F. Kennedy and sought to take the life of Texas Gov. John Connally. He is also suspected of trying to kill Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker.

It is no exaggeration to say that Klosson's estimate of Oswald changed the course of history. He was wrong about Oswald, and an American president died.

An error of that magnitude would seem to recommend the official for an early retirement.

Instead, this official now turns up in an even more sensitive position, where his day-to-day decisions affect the course of American-Soviet relations and the lives of all of us.

Peninsula Potpourri

Kevin Curtin, 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Curtin of Lake Linden, enjoyed the fulfillment of a youngster's dream when he visited the Detroit Tigers' dressing room and met most of the players on the team. The special visit was arranged by the Tigers' Jim Northrup, who is from Mrs. Curtin's home town of Breckenridge and whom she has known for many years.

Brenda Halron, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Halron of Ontonagon, was crowned Miss Ontonagon County of 1969 and reigned over events staged during the county's annual Labor Day celebration.

Rex Barrett was introduced as the new administrator of Mackinac Straits Hospital at a farewell dinner in St. Ignace for Col. George T. O'Reilly, who resigned the post at the end of August. Barrett is a retired Army officer who spent more than 30 years in the Medical Corps, advancing from private to lieutenant colonel. His assignments took him to Europe, the Far East and Alaska. He also spent a year as hospital administrator in Floresville, Texas.

THE REAL VICTIM

Government Snafu Running Full Cycle

While John Chamberlain is on vacation, various prominent people are substituting for him.)

REP. LOWELL WEICKER JR. (R. CONN.)

WASHINGTON — A photograph that appeared in many newspapers throughout the country recently featured an elderly woman in a long black dress, wearing a shawl, standing in line at the New York Passport Office waiting to fill out an application.

On this woman's face was a look of weariness and desperation. The caption under the photograph told the story of how she had been waiting in line since early morning to fill out an application for a passport that would let her visit the homeland she had left so many years ago.

This scene could have been photographed in many areas throughout the country, for the passport issuing service is a national disgrace.

As I looked at this photo, I remembered similar pictures in an old history book showing immigrants standing in long lines waiting to complete applications to enter this country.

Here in this one woman's lifetime was the entire cycle of government snafu. When she arrived in this country at the turn of the century, the government was not equipped nor staffed to process her entrance efficiently, without delays. A half century later when she seeks to leave the country for a visit to her former homeland, she finds the government still conducting a horse-and-buggy operation in a jet age when it comes to issuing a passport.

Why in this day and age, when 'the once in a lifetime' vacation abroad is attainable by the average income American, are delays and inconvenience a normal part of the passport application process?

The question can be answered only by Congressman John Rooney, and by ranking State Department officials who are petrified at the thought of bucking the powerful Democratic Congressman who heads a subcommittee of the Appropriations Committee which handles the Department's budget.

Miss Frances Knight, director of the Passport Office, has long been a champion of better service for the traveling public. Miss Knight has long predicted the crisis which has resulted in long lines and delays in applying for a passport in many areas of the country. And she has requested additional personnel to staff offices to handle the increased demands for passports.

But Congressman Rooney insists that Federal Court personnel continue to handle passport applications despite the inconveniences to the general public and despite the refusal on the part of many courts to process applications because of a heavy judicial workload.

As a result, in such states as Alaska, Texas, Washington, Michigan and Connecticut, the Federal Courts have refused or threatened to refuse passport applications and service has been cut back.

Throughout the nation, the traveling public has found that while it takes but a few hours by jet to go abroad it takes all day to apply for a passport.

Whether you have been in Congress for 27 sessions or one, we are here to serve the people in our districts, but the present system of issuing passports could hardly be classified as good service.

In an attempt to solve this national crisis, Congressman Robert Giaimo (D., Conn.) and I have proposed, on a bipartisan basis, legislation which would allow the Passport Office to establish agencies or service offices which would be self-sustaining, to service the public in areas where additional facilities are warranted. In areas where service offices would not be self-sustaining, the Federal Courts would be required to accept passport applications.

Since the passport problem is national in scope, twenty-five Congressmen from both parties and representing districts all over the country have endorsed or co-sponsored the bill.

At the same time, this expanded service would not cost the taxpayer a cent from his pocket. One look at the record shows that the Passport Office knows the meaning of the word economy. In the last fiscal year the office returned to the Treasury $10 million more than it spent.

It is only just that this money is put to use to provide better service for the traveling public. That weary, elderly woman who spent the day standing in line and the traveling public do not understand the intricacies of Washington's bureaucratic battles. All they know is that they are paying for service but are not being treated fairly.

State Departments issue passports; courts administer the laws. To ask one to perform the functions of the other is the type of Rube Goldberg mechanism that belongs to the era in which it was contrived.

One survey itemized annual canine expenditures this way: $700 million for buying dogs; $600 million in veterinary fees; $550 million for food; $450 million for clothes and accessories; $300 million for licensing fees and shots; and $400 million in miscellaneous costs.

Letters To The Press

DOWNTOWN

On behalf of the Downtown Development Committee, I should like to express appreciation to Mrs. M. A. Johnson for her letter in the Sept. 8 issue of the Escanaba Daily Press bringing attention to the need for air conditioning in many downtown stores. We feel she is undoubtedly justified in her complaint, and we shall encourage members of the downtown business community to provide for more comfortable shopping conditions before next summer.

The Downtown Development Committee, representing the downtown businesses, is meeting frequently to consider and plan for improvements in services and facilities which will make the downtown more attractive, more convenient, more comfortable, and more complete. We shall welcome suggestions and constructive criticism such as offered by Mrs. Johnson, and we shall give them serious consideration in our planning.

Robert Mosenfelder, Chairman, Downtown Develop. Comm.

(Editor's Note: The following two letters also were received by John Walbridge of Escanaba in response to a story written by Associated Press staff writer James Phillips.)

AIR POLLUTION

This is to lend moral support to the efforts of you and the other citizens of Escanaba who are opposing the Escanaba Paper Co.'s pulp mill proposal. The policy of taking over by The Establishment regardless of what damage it will do to our environment has too long been the rule.

The assurances from the Mead Paper Co. officials that there would be no odor, has a familiar ring. We, in this area, successfully halted the establishment of a sewage disposal plant which also was to have no odor.

Now the residents in the area where it was located, have been fighting the city for months because of the air pollution that has resulted.

If you are not already in touch with outside support, I would suggest that you write to the Environmental Information Center (Michigan Committee for Environmental Information) P.O. Box 2281, Grand Rapids, Mich. 49501. I am not affiliated with them in an active capacity but have received their bulletins and they may be able to help your group.

Mrs. Rose Chatalein, 434 Pine View Ave., Kalamazoo

I have read with interest the enclosed clipping from our daily paper (Portland Press-Herald).

Under no circumstances should you people permit a kraft process mill to start operations in your neighborhood — nor for many, many miles around.

Opening lead—jack of spades. Most hands almost automatically play themselves. Thus, if declarer is in a suit contract, he may start by ruffing his losers in dummy, or by establishing a side suit, or by drawing trumps and conceding one or more unavoidable high-card losers, or by any of many other different forms of play available to him.

But some hands require an extra effort that does not quite fall into the usual pattern of play. Declarer must do something extra-special to be successful, as South demonstrated in this deal from a rubber bridge game.

West led the jack of spades against six clubs. Declarer naturally read this lead as a singleton, since East had made a vulnerable overcall, and it appeared that unless he found the hearts divided 3-3 he would inevitably lose two spade tricks and go down one.

So, after winning the ace of spades and drawing two rounds of trumps, South cashed the K-A of hearts and ruffed a heart, learning in the process that West had started with four hearts and East with two.

The slam now seemed doomed, since ruffing another heart and establishing the fifth heart in dummy for a spade discard would still leave South a trick short of the contract.

However, declarer found the answer to the problem when he first cashed the ace of diamonds before leading a third round of trumps to dummy and a fourth round of hearts.

Instead of ruffing the heart, which would have been fatal, South discarded a spade, thus putting West on lead at a critical juncture and forcing him to commit hara-kiri.

West had no choice but to return a diamond, thus permitting South to dispose of one of his two remaining spades on the diamond ruff in dummy and the other spade on the established ten of hearts.

Ann Landers

Only Gullible Yokels Believe Ura Hogg

Dear Ann Landers: I am dating a fine young man and he has asked me to marry him. My folks think Arnold is marvelous and I must say he treats me beautifully. The problem is this: Arnold acts so strange when he is with his family that I wonder if they are normal.

For example: Last night Arnold's brother Ben (age 22) asked him for a loan of $10. Arnold replied, "You are a person of proven integrity and you can have anything I have. I love you."

Ben took the $10, kissed Arnold and said, "Thank you. I love you, too."

They were not kidding, Ann. This is the way they talk to each other all the time. What's more, they always kiss each other and their parents hello and good-by. I've never seen anything like it. We are a close family, but this is ridiculous.

Do you think Arnold and I could have a good marriage. — Q. T.

Dear Q.: It's how Arnold treats you that counts, and according to your letter, he treats you very well. I admit his family's behavior is unusual to say the least, but I see nothing here to indicate that Arnold would not be a loving husband.

Dear Ann Landers: I am 20, male, and have been smoking pot since I was 17. I've heard a lot of weird stories about pot and I'm sure most of the stories are exaggerated to scare kids off. Some of my friends have been smoking for five years and have had no bad effects. Others have gotten into all kinds of trouble. I'm convinced it all depends on the physical condition of the smoker and how strong the stuff is. I got off pot seven weeks ago and I hope you will print my letter because it might help somebody.

Six months after I started to smoke I began to get terrific headaches which lasted two and three days. Then I developed a sort of sleeping sickness. I could fall asleep any place, any time, in any position.

When I started to fall asleep on the highway I decided I'd better quit, but I kept going back to the joints because I liked the feeling. Pot smokers tell each other it is not habit forming but I'd like to know what you call it when you can't quit.

Two months ago I was high from a smoke and decided to drive to town only 22 miles away. The next thing I knew I was in the hospital. I had fallen asleep at the wheel and hit an abutment. The car was demolished and I was lucky to get out alive. I was also lucky that I didn't kill a car full of people.

I thank God I got off pot before it wrecked my life. I'd sign my name but my folks would die of the shock. — Horseshoe Herb

Dear Herb: It's nice to wake up alive, isn't it? Not all people have your kind of luck. Thanks for writing.

Dear Ann: I'm floored by your reference to the Hogg sisters, Ima and Ura. You've been had. Ima is for real but Ura is a myth. That put-on has been floating around for ages. Only the gullible yokels believe it. How come YOU did? — Hous-tonian

Dear Hous-tonian: I guess I must be a gullible yokel. What else?

If you have trouble getting along with your parents... if you can't get them to let you live your own life, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Bugged By Parents? How To Get More Freedom." Send 50c in coin with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

People, Events Of Yesteryears

25 Years Ago Robert Kositzke, 219 S. 17th St., landed the largest northern pike to be reported from the Escanaba Yacht Harbor this year, a 42½ inch fellow that tipped the scales at 15½ pounds. Kositzke caught it on a silver spoon bait.

Bark River, which has had a community baseball team continuously since 1910, will honor its 1944 championship team tomorrow in a recognition banquet at the Hotel Perket. Bergstrom, Edgar Larsen, D. Bergman, L. Derocher, J. Johnson, Lloyd Olson, M. Teal, Mack McNinis, Ben Johnson, S. Meyers, Ed LeBeau, J. Anderson and Don Lewis.

Drilling for iron ore immediately south of Escanaba will be started within 10 days. The Escanaba Iron Range Exploration Co. awarded the contract for the diamond drill work to the E. J. Longyear Co. of Minneapolis and Marquette and operations are to be started as soon as the drilling machinery can be delivered.

C. E. Helmer has assumed the duties of superintendent of the Peninsula division of the Northwestern, succeeding J. E. Byington who became superintendent of the Wisconsin division with headquarters in Chicago.

COHO SALMON

Where are the coho?
This question is on the lips of every U. P. fisherman these days as he anxiously awaits the arrival of the elusive coho. Last year, the coho arrived at Thompson Creek in late July and the fishing remained good up till the end of September. This year hundreds of anglers have "beat their heads against a brick wall" in an effort to catch salmon that just aren't there.

For the past two years, the run at Thompson Creek has been made up of the Alaskan breed of coho salmon. This breed matures earlier than its Oregon counterpart, but does not reach the 20-pound class as the Oregon fish do in their downstate runs. These Alaskan coho gather off spawning streams sometime around early August, and fishing for them is a hectic affair through the fall months.

The Oregon strain, on the other hand, do not gather off the spawning streams until the middle of September and even early October, so fishing for them is usually a cold weather recreation in the U. P.

This year's run of U.P. salmon, including Thompson Creek, will consist wholly of Oregon-bred coho salmon. These fish spawn about 6-8 weeks later than the Alaskan coho. This is the major reason for the late coho run this year.

Local DNR biologists expect the coho to arrive at the mouth of the Whitefish River and at Thompson Creek by the end of September. "As soon as the water temperature takes a considerable drop the coho should start to move in," said Dave Johnson, DNR biologist from Escanaba, talking about the Whitefish River. "I expect the run here to begin around the third week in September," said Keith Pratt, head biologist at the Thompson hatchery, about the Thompson run.

One encouraging thing about the later-running strain of salmon is their bigger size. The largest Alaskan coho ever caught and officially weighed at Thompson totaled a mere 14-pounds. This fish will be but a faint memory this fall as anglers set their hooks in fish that should average between 15 and 22-pounds at Thompson Creek and in Little Bay De Noc.

Patience is the big word. The fish that will run the Whitefish River and Thompson Creek are already on their way, and it's just a matter of time before they start showing up in anglers' creels. The big coho runs may cut into the fall hunting seasons, but that won't make too much difference to tried and true salmon fishermen.

All the animosity towards the DNR that has been expressed lately by local anglers will be forgotten when the coho start to move near U. P. streams.

Over 531,000 cohoes were stocked in U. P. streams in the spring of 1968. These fish, planted as six-inch fingerlings, will come swarming back as 10-22 pound adults gathering in large schools off the mouths of spawning streams this fall.

At that time fishing will be terrific. There's no doubt about it, and with a choice of nine U. P. coho rivers to choose from you can pick your own type of salmon fishing to fit your taste.

Like many other coho fever victims, this writer has made frequent trips to Thompson and Little Bay de Noc in the past few weeks in the hope that he might be the lucky angler who will make that first big catch of adult fish as they move close to shore before spawning. So far — no luck, but the day is fast approaching when the end of my line will start to dance and my reel will scream. I hope it's soon.

Underground Blast Jars West Colorado

GRAND VALLEY, Colo. (AP) — An underground nuclear explosion equal in force to 40,000 tons of TNT jarred western Colorado Wednesday. But whether it shook a billion dollars worth of natural gas free from buried rock formations remains to be seen next spring.

No Radioactivity
The Atomic Energy Commission said no radioactivity escaped into the atmosphere.

After six days of weather-caused delay, the blast went off at the scheduled hour despite about 60 objects which marched into the observation tent while predetonation ceremonies were in progress.

The protesters, mostly from the resort community of Aspen and the town of Cedaredge, said they feared the blast and a possible flurry of contaminated gas later would release a radioactive form of hydrogen called tritium into the atmosphere and then into the food chain.

The ground at the observation site, six miles from the blast, surged upward enough to shake spectators when the charge went off, then jiggled for several seconds. Dust clouds rose along the crest of the mountains for 10 miles or more. One big cloud marked a landslide high up on one mountain.

Rocks Tumble Down
A few rocks tumbled down on highways which had been blocked to prevent any mishaps.

The blast was felt in Grand Junction, 40 miles southwest,

Mackinac Bridge Group To Merge

LANSING (AP) —The State Highway Commission has announced plans for merger of the maintenance force at the Mackinac Bridge with the Highway Department.

The bridge authority was placed under the Highway Department as part of a 1965 governmental reorganization. The bridge is maintained by an 18-man crew and seven seasonal employees. The Highway Department said the consolidation is expected to save about $25,000 a year.

Mine Safety Post Goes To U.P. Man

LANSING (AP) — The State Labor Department has named Ambrose "Porky" Airaudi of Negaunee as a mine safety supervisor.

Airaudi, general chairman of the Michigan-Wisconsin section of the United Steelworkers of America district 33 safety council, will assist the board in formulating rules for metal and nonmetallic mining operations in the state, said labor director Barry Brown.

Airaudi also is vice chairman of the iron ore advisory committee for the State Mine Safety Board.

AP Man Dies

ROME (AP) — Robert J. Cavanaugh, 63, a general executive of The Associated Press, died today in Salvador Mundi Hospital.

Cavanaugh, who lived in Greenwich, Conn., was taken ill while vacationing in Rome. He died of complications after an operation for a ruptured appendix and blocked intestine.

Cavanaugh was one of the best known newspapermen in the United States, through his work for The Associated Press and his active role in Sigma Delta Chi, a journalists' society. He was a past national president of the society, which awarded him in 1964 its Wells memorial key.

Sigma Delta Chi's highest honor for members. The citation noted his "devotion to everything good in journalism."

but no damage was reported. A few miles farther away a shopkeeper at Colorado National Monument said cans were shaken from a shelf.

Colorado School of Mines at Golden recorded the blast on a seismograph and listed it at 5.5 on the Richter scale, an earthquake intensity capable of inflicting damage when centered on an inhabited area.

The explosion, named Project Rulison for a long-vanished village, was part of the government's Plowshare program to find peaceful uses for atomic energy.

Gas Freedom Eyed
The $6.5 million blast was touched off to determine whether underground fission can free gas in commercial volume from sandstone.

The AEC and Austral Oil Co. of Houston, Tex., the sponsors, are hoping for release of 60 billion cubic feet of gas by the blast, 8,442 feet below Battlement Mesa.

They have promised federal courts they would not open the hole for six months to investigate, allowing short-lived radioactive isotopes to decay.

If successful, the project will lead to additional experiments seeking to unlock 317 trillion cubic feet of gas in Western states.

Observe Cemetery Sunday This Week At Holy Cross

Cemetery Sunday will be observed at Holy Cross Cemetery in Escanaba on Sunday, Sept. 14 from 1 to 5 p.m. The public is invited.

The autumn season is about to begin with its colorama and this is a good time to visit the cemetery. Tall pines, a grove of cedars, shrubbery and the fast autumn colors in large flower beds dominate the entire area. Many improvements have been made including the renovation of the chapel.

Original Cemetery

The original Catholic cemetery in Escanaba was located near where No. 2 Fire Station, in the 800 block on Sheridan Road, now stands. St. Joseph's Parish established a cemetery in 1869 and St. Anne's Parish, one adjoining in 1888, near Portage Creek on M-35. The two cemeteries embraced 50 acres and bodies were removed there from the original Catholic cemetery in North Escanaba about 1900.

There was also a burial plot behind old St. Joseph Church. This burial ground was revealed when the new St. Joseph Church was constructed in 1938. The bodies were removed to St. Joseph Cemetery.

Depressed Man Kills Two Yanks

SAIGON (AP) — Two U.S. military advisers were shot and killed Monday by a "mentally depressed" South Vietnamese soldier who then killed himself, the U.S. Command announced today.

The Americans were Lt. Col. Eugene F. Smallwood, 42, of Fairfax, Va., and Maj. Anthony J. Brouillon, 32, of Jackson Heights, N.Y. They were killed as they were leaving a South Vietnamese army compound 25 miles southwest of Saigon.

Both were senior advisers to units in the South Vietnamese 25th Infantry Division. Smallwood with the division's 50th Regiment and Brouillon with that regiment's 4th Battalion.

Campus Center Plans Studied

The Bay de Noc College Governing Board Wednesday night heard President Richard Rinehart report on the progress of faculty committees and plans for additional buildings on the new campus.

Consideration is being given the idea of combining the new Campus Center, with its food services, with the gymnasium in such a manner that best arrangements can be made for handling various size audiences in the College arts series, he said.

Further study is being made to work out a means for multiple use of space, including teaching physical education, theater performances, visiting lecturers, basketball games, food services on campus, snack bar, and student union activities.

The Board also reviewed the overall existing policies, heard a report on health insurance options for the College employees, and general progress. The Board approved payment of bills and financial report to date.

Rinehart also reported to the Board that inquiries have been received for some further study of a possible course in automotive technology. This could be at high school or post-high school level and further study will help determine whether sufficient interest exists to justify the additional curriculum, he said.

Other occupational programs under study include the expansion of opportunities in welding. Board members suggested further study in air conditioning and refrigeration, as well as electrical appliance repairs.

Briefly Told

Escanaba police issued a traffic court notice to Leonard E. Kositzky, Escanaba Rte. 1, for speeding.

A charter bus for adults will travel to Sault Ste. Marie for the Friday night Escanaba-Soo game. Persons interested in transportation are asked to call 786-4207.

A Boy Scout meeting will be held Monday at 7 p.m. in the basement of St. Anthony's Church, Wells, for Troop 407 and any new boys interested in Scouting. It is important that parents accompany boys to the meeting. Scout officials stressed.

State Police issued traffic tickets Wednesday to Thomas Collins, Rte. 1, Gladstone, no operators license; Victor Zar, Jr., Rte. 3, Rapid River, speeding; Vincent Branam, Butte, Montana, defective brakes; and Harold Brazeau, 635 N. 9th St., Gladstone, violation of license restriction.

The U. P. Chapter of the Michigan Kidney Foundation will meet Monday at 8 p. m. at the Chamber of Commerce in Escanaba. Guest speaker will be Dr. Mary Cretens, county health director. Anyone who has collected "Betty Crocker" coupons for the kidney machine loan closet are asked to bring them to the meeting.

board members were the pastors of the Catholic churches in Escanaba: Rev. S. Maier, St. Anne's; Rev. A. Wilberding, St. Joseph's; Rev. M. B. Melican, St. Patrick's; Francis Boyce, Patrick Degnan, Peter Jaeger, Fred LaBranche and John Sheehan.

Members of the present Board appointed by Bishop Charles Salatkka are: Rev. Arnold Thompson, chairman; (Reverends Louis Cappo, Charles Carmody, Fabian Gerstle, OFM, Norbert Freiburger) John Beauchamp, Francis D'Amour, Louis Dufour, John McCarthy, Roger Murray, Thomas Wilfong, Mrs. Beatrice Morin, executive secretary and office manager, Thomas Fisher, salesman; John Giroux, sexton.

New Carpeting

The installation of a new water system was completed this year. The office for Holy Cross Cemetery is located at the cemetery now and the chapel has been renovated to accommodate two offices. The chapel and offices are carpeted. A new heating system and pews have also been installed.

Holy Cross Cemetery has a long and varied history. Approximately one half of the 50 acres are plotted. There is a new shrine area now and there is a monument section.

Reminder Of Past

A stroll through the cemetery is a reminder of the history of the past. There are monuments some of them old and quaint and they bear a variety of inscriptions, scriptural and otherwise; some are in French, German, and Croatian.

Some of the markers also symbolize the trade or profession of the men they memorialize, a tree for the lumberman; a plow for the farmer; all silent reminders of a sturdy race who lived and toiled here before us.

Farmers Urged To Topdress Hayland

If you have not topdressed your hayland this season, there is still plenty of time yet this fall, according to J. L. Heirman, Delta County Extension director.

Dr. D. R. Christenson, Michigan State University Extension Specialist in Soils, reports that hay yields in Delta County were increased from one ton to 3.0 tons per acre with proper fertilizer applications.

Christenson says that for every ton of alfalfa or other hay harvested about 15 pounds of phosphate and 45 pounds of potash will be removed. This means that every ton of alfalfa removes the amount of plant food contained in 150 pounds of 0-10-30.

Heirman adds that the amount of plant food supplied by the soil will vary from field to field. "The best way to determine the amount supplied by the soil is by having the soil tested," he said. Adding fertilizer as prescribed by soil test makes sure that the right amount and kind is being added, according to the director.

"On alfalfa where phosphate and potash are used there will be no loss of fertilizer by applying this fall after alfalfa has gone into a dormant stage," Heirman said.

Sailors Beat Ship To Port

SAULT STE. MARIE—This city of the Soo locks is more than 600 rugged miles by road from the rocky shores of Silver Bay, Minnesota. But a couple of lake sailors who missed their boat found their way with time to spare.

One day last week, James Taft and Mark Mahla, seamen on the James Davidson of Ogilby-Norton's Columbia transportation division, missed their ship at Silver Bay, where it had taken on a cargo of tannin pellets.

The nearest stop for their ship was the Soo, about 400 miles by water to the east and more than 600 miles by road. The buses were few and not many of these had the Soo on their schedule.

The north shore of Lake Superior is not conducive to hitchhiking. Air schedules are hard to meet and it was too far to swim.

The two young men pooled their resources, bought a "clunker" for $75 and headed for Sault Ste. Marie.

The pair arrived here 12 hours before their ship did. They found a buyer for their car, who decided it was worth $50, and they were at the locks waiting when their ship arrived Sunday at 5:30 a. m.

Scoring Star Jumps Pistons

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dave Bing, a star with the National Basketball Association's Detroit Pistons for three seasons, signed Wednesday to play with his home town Washington Caps of the American Basketball Association.

But when he'll make the shift — next year or the after — seemed a big question mark. He has already signed with the Pistons for this season with a provision to play out his option there next year.

Earl Foreman, who recently purchased the Oakland Oaks franchise and arranged to shift it to Washington, told reporters Bing probably will play this season with Detroit.

Foreman wouldn't say when Bing would play with Washington, commenting only that it would be as soon as legally possible. The Cap owner indicated he feels Bing's contract is open to legal question.

The 6-foot, 2-inch NBA All-Star guard said he wants to return to his home town where he was a high school star before going to Syracuse. Bing was NBA Rookie of the Year in his first year with the Pistons and in the second year, 1967-68, led the NBA in scoring with a 27.1 average.

Foreman said Bing was signed to a long-term contract with the Caps, explaining he meant two or more years.

Mets Defeat Expos; Take Over Top Spot

By The Associated Press

Take heart Montreal and San Diego, the New York Mets are in first place in the National League East.

Keep the faith San Diego and Montreal, the Houston Astros are just two games out of first place in the National League West.

Don't be embarrassed with your 44-99 record Montreal or with your 45-97 mark San Diego. Seven years ago today, in those pre-division days, the expansion Mets were in last place with 35-105 record and the new Astros were just a notch ahead of them with 56-87 mark.

Grab Lead

But the Mets and the Astros have kept plugging, and Wednesday night New York swept Montreal 3-2 in 12 innings and 7-1 to move into first place a game ahead of Chicago, which lost 6-2 to Philadelphia, while Houston smashed Los Angeles 8-1 to tie the Dodgers for fourth.

just two games back of first-place San Francisco.

In other NL action, San Francisco lost 8-4 to the Atlanta Braves but remained one-half game ahead of both Cincinnati, which was edged by San Diego 2-1, and the Braves, and St. Louis swept Pittsburgh 11-2 and 2-1.

The hit that sent a Shea Stadium full of Met fans in ecstacy was a single by Ken Boswell in the 12th inning of the opener. It scored Cleon Jones and put the Mets in first place for the first time ever, by one-half game.

Sweep Twinbill

The Mets increased their lead to a full game in the nightcap as they erupted for six runs in the third inning and Nolan Ryan pitched a three-hitter.

Montreal got three hits and two runs in the first two innings of the opener off Jim McAndrew. McAndrew then limited the Expos to just one more hit until he was taken for a

Howard Ties Jackson As Home Run Leader

By The Associated Press

Reggie Jackson is itching to regain his American League home run-hitting lead from Frank Howard.

He's also just plain itching.

And, that's the reason the rugged Oakland slugger had to wait at least a day to pose a threat to Howard's latest bid to slip away with the homer title.

Big Frank slapped his 46th of the season—matching Reggie's output—in backing Dick Bosman's two-hitter as Washington whipped the New York Yankees 6-1 Wednesday night.

But Jackson was deprived of at least an opportunity to go back on top a few hours later when he was sent home from the Oakland ball park with a case of the hives. It wasn't known just how long he would be out.

Jackson wasn't the only one to desert the fast fading A's. Only 1,945 fans—the smallest crowd in the Bay Area's major league baseball history—turned up to see Seattle's 9-4 victory that pinned the fifth straight loss on the A's, their 13th in 16 games, and put them another big step toward mathematical elimination in the AL West.

Thanks to the Pilot victory, Minnesota—which had only a two-game lead over Oakland just a little more than two weeks ago—maintained its 9½ game bulge despite a 3-2 loss to the Chicago White Sox.

Baltimore whipped Boston 8-6.

Frosh Contest

There was an error in yesterday's Press concerning the freshman football game to be played between Escanaba and Holy Name. The game will be played tonight at 7:30 under the lights at the Escanaba Athletic Field.

Bowling Notes

The men's 7 p. m. Happy Hour League will hold a league meeting at the Bowl-A-Rama tonight at 7:30. Anyone who plans on bowling, or is interested in bowling, in this league is asked to be present at this meeting as two or more teams are needed for the league.

Lolich, Tigers Upend Indians

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Mickey Lolich who tamed the St. Louis Cardinals in the World Series last year and who was the hottest thing the Tigers had going in the first half of this year's season re-emerged in Cleveland Wednesday night.

Lolich, who has been slumping badly since the All Star break in mid-July, put on one of his best performances of the year as the Tigers downed the hapless Indians 4-1.

The southpaw hurler surrendered just five hits while walking just two and striking out seven on his way to picking up his 18th victory against eight losses. The win equalled his season high mark set in 1964 when he finished with an 18-9 season mark.

Wednesday's loss virtually insured the Indians their worst season in 41 years. It was their 27th defeat of the season, equaling a mark set by Joe Adcock's team in 1927.

In 1928, the Tribe lost 92 games and they still have 19 games this season in which they can equal or better—so to speak—the dubious mark.

The game, meanwhile, extended Lolich's lifetime record against Cleveland to 18-4.

Lolich helped his own cause considerably with his work at the plate in the game.

Jim Northrup gave Detroit an early lead with a solo homer—his 21st—in the first inning.

Then in the fourth, Ike Brown led off with a single. With two out, Lolich drilled a triple past Ken Harrelson in right field, scoring Brown with what proved to be the winning run. Mickey Stanley singled to left to score Lolich.

The Tiger's other run came in the sixth off a double by catcher Jim Price and a wild pitch by loser Dick Ellsworth.

The Indians scored their lone run in the eighth on singles by Jose Cardenal, Ray Fosse and Vern Fuller.

Spartan Mentor Dies Wednesday

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — John Benington, whose wit was as sharp as his eye for team errors, died of a massive heart attack Wednesday night at Michigan State University where he coached Spartan basketball teams for the past four seasons.

The lanky, 47-year-old head coach was found dead on the floor of the coaches' locker room at Jenison Gymnasium on the campus.

Officials said his body was discovered by his wife, Barbara, and freshman basketball coach Bob Nordmann, a former star player under Benington, after he failed to arrive home for supper.

Dr. James Feurig, team physician, diagnosed the cause of Benington's death as a massive heart attack—his second in five months. He was a father of nine.

Benington's teams compiled a record of 56 victories and 38 losses at Michigan State. The Spartans tied for the Big Ten Conference championship under Benington in the 1966-67 season and placed second in 1965-66, his first season at the helm. Over-all Benington's teams won 32 games and lost 24 in the conference.

Benington, popular with students and on the lecture tour, was an acknowledged expert on basketball methods. He co-authored a widely used textbook and frequently took part in basketball clinics.

In 13 years of coaching, Benington's teams racked up 195 victories and 137 losses.

He came to MSU, replacing Fordy Anderson, after seven years as head coach at St. Louis University. His St. Louis teams won 118, lost 71. Five of those teams were invited to the National Invitational Tournament.

Nordmann was a star player for Benington at St. Louis.

Benington launched his coaching career in 1956 at Drake University where his teams won 21 and lost 38.

Last April 11, Benington suffered a heart attack and was hospitalized for about six weeks.

Friends said he appeared on the road to recovery, however, and played golf a number of times this summer and directed a couple of basketball clinics.

He was determined, friends said, to return to coaching full-time.

Peninsula Gridders Begin Third Week

Eight teams still sport perfect records as football squads around the Upper Peninsula head into their third weekend of the season with a schedule of 18 games on tap, beginning Friday night with 13 games.

Both local high schools are among the 26 schools playing on Friday night, the Escanaba Eskymos traveling to Sault Ste. Marie and the Holy Name Crusaders hitting the road for a Great Northern Conference contest against the Menominee Maroons.

Other games Friday night will find Iron Mountain at Ironwood, Wakefield at Bessemer, West Iron County at Rhineland, Crystal Falls at Stephenson, St. Ignace at Boyne City, Houghton at Calumet, Pickford at Brimley, Norway at Kingsford, Rudyard at Newberry, Rock at Bark River and Pembine at Powers.

Schedule Error

An error was found in the master U.P. schedule and as a result the game between Bark River and Rock at Bark River will be played Saturday afternoon instead of Friday night.

Conference Clash

The last two games on the schedule are Wolverine Conference games and the teams will play eight-man football. Powers was rated the dark-horse in the conference while Bark River was favored to win the title.

When Escanaba travels to Sault Ste. Marie Friday night, it will mark the first time since 1964 that these two Class A teams have played each other. Escanaba has won 31 of the 46 games between the schools while Soo has come out on top end of 13 and two games have ended in a tie. The 1964 game was a 46-14 victory for the Eskymos.

The game is being billed as an East-West clash in Sault Ste. Marie and as to how everything will come down to the wire Friday night as to who plays the tougher football, the East or the West.

Risk Record

The Eskymos will carry their 22-game unbeaten string into the contest, coming fresh off a victory over arch-rival Menominee last weekend by a score of 22-8. It is hoped that starting quarterback Bob Gauthier, who missed last week's game because of the flu, will be back in action although reserve quarterback Tom Kangas was outstanding in the victory over Menominee.

The Blue Devils are 1-1 on the season, suffering an opening game loss to Negaunee before bouncing back to stop Manistique in last weekend's game. Their line averages 200 pounds and quarterback Dennis Brooks seemed to find his passing eye in the Manistique game. Speedsters Ken Sherman, John Black, and Dennis Rutledge will share running honor with converted guard Bruce Campbell, an All-U. P. selection last year, who will play fullback.

Perhaps the game that will arouse the most interest in the U. P. Friday night will be the Holy Name-Menominee clash. Holy Name, 2-0 on the season, appears to be making a strong run at the Eskymos for top honors in the U. P. this season and will be eager to tackle the Maroons, who have only lost three times in the last three years, all to Escanaba.

Top Scorers

The Crusaders, led by hard-running fullback Dan Young, are the top scoring team in the Upper Peninsula, having scored 61 points in their two outings, while giving up just eight points. Young scored four touchdowns in last week's game against Stephenson and picked up 155 yards in 22 carries. He has scored 36 of Holy Name's 61 points already this season.

Against Menominee, the Crusaders will run into the two top rushers in the conference, Gary Enstrom and Bob Theuerkauf. Enstrom piled up 92 yards in 19 carries against Escanaba last week and will give the Crusaders all they can handle defensively.

Holy Name will also have something for the Menominee defense to keep in mind in addition to Young, the passing combination of quarterback Bob McGinn and halfback John Baribeau. Baribeau is the leading receiver in the conference with five catches worth 86 yards while McGinn is second in passing with 112 yards on eight completions in 13 attempts.

Local Interest

Five more games in the big weekend are scheduled for Saturday including a pair of Great Lakes Conference clashes involving teams with local interest.

Ishpeming will hit the road for a Saturday afternoon contest against the Gladstone Braves at the Marble Athletic Field and the Manistique Emeralds will travel to Munising for a game with the Mustangs.

The Braves, led by quarterback Cliff Young, were simply outstanding in their 23-0 victory over Newberry last Saturday and will be eager to show that they are going to be contenders for the conference title.

Bounced Back

After playing to a 0-0 tie with Gwinn in their opening contest of the season, the Braves really bounced back last week and behind the passing arm of Young and a hard-charging defense never really let Newberry in the game. Young completed four of eight passing attempts for 168 yards and the Braves' defense didn't allow the Indians past the Gladstone 30-yard line.

Manistique will be looking for its first victory of the young season at Munising after losing a heartbreaker to Soo last week by a score of 18-6. The

Depositing State Funds In Firms Out

LANSING (AP)—The state constitution forbids the deposit of state funds in federally chartered savings and loan associations, an attorney general's opinion held today.

Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley said the language of the 1963 state constitution precisely followed that of the constitution of 1908, which also prohibited the deposit of any state funds in federal savings and loan associations.

The opinion was asked by Rep. David Holmes Jr., D-Detroit.

Capt. Bilgen Retires Friday

State Police Capt. Robert H. Bilgen, 55, commander of the Marquette district is retiring Friday after completing 29 years of service. Col. Fredrick E. Davids, department director, reported.

He joined the State Police Sept. 3, 1940, serving first at Rockford before assignments in 1941 to Jonesville, in 1944 to Jackson and in 1947 to East Lansing headquarters as a radio dispatcher.

Bilgen returned to Jackson in 1948, then was promoted to corporal in 1953 and assigned to Detroit. When advanced to sergeant in 1956, he was given command of the Battle Creek post.

Promoted to lieutenant in 1960 he was transferred to Marquette as assistant district commander there. Four years later he was advanced to captain and given the district command.

He was twice honored for meritorious service. He earned one citation in 1952 during the Jackson prison riot when he and three fellow troopers provided escort for a deputy warden making a survey of the riot situation within the prison. The other was for his part in solving a series of burglaries following questioning of subjects arrested in the Marshall area in 1952.

Bilgen was born September 20, 1913 at Hubbell, graduated from high school at Lake Linden, later attended college for a year. He is married and has a son.

BILLS FOR BIRDS

SOUTHAMPTON, England (AP)—Jackdaws, magpies and a rook have collected more than 3,000 pounds (7,200 dollars) for Southampton's children's hospital. Passersby push coins for charity through the wire screens of a nearby aviary to see the birds take the money in their beaks.

JENSHAK — Mr. and Mrs. David Jenshak, 1524 Lindale Lane, Ashwaubenon, Wis., are the parents of a daughter, Cindy Leigh, born August 31, at Bellin Memorial Hospital in Green Bay. The infant, who is the first child in the family, weighed eight pounds three ounces at birth. Her mother is the former Cheryl Hagman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hagman, 502 S. 13th St. This is the first grandchild for the Norman Hagmans.

Newspaper Guild Headed By Herlick

WASHINGTON (AP)—Charles A. Perlik Jr., secretary-treasurer of the American Newspaper Guild, topped his election rival by more than 2,000 votes to become ANG president, the guild announced.

Robert G. Crocker, Associated Press correspondent in Augusta, Maine, was elected secretary-treasurer. Crocker is a past president and past secretary-treasurer of the Wire Service Guild.

James G. McMahon of Detroit was elected as international vice president.

'30 And Out' Latest Goal Of Auto Union

DETROIT (AP)—A movement is taking shape to make retirement after 30 years of service regardless of age, a major goal in 1970 contract negotiations of the United Auto Workers Union.

Among leaders of the movement is Jack Wagner, president of Buick Local 599 of Flint who claims endorsement of the so-called "30 and Out" plan by 1,200 local union officials over the country.

Meeting Suggested Wagner said advocates hope to arrange a meeting to precede a UAW national convention at Detroit Nov. 8-9, called to fix a scale of higher benefits for any of the union's 1.7 million members on strike.

Aim of this meeting, Wagner said, would be "to get the ball rolling" for next April's constitutional convention of the UAW in Atlantic City, where new contract demands will be decided upon.

Early Retirement Target

"Early retirement," Wagner said, "is going to be a main issue next year. We want to get together and make 30 years the maximum anyone has to work before being eligible to retire on a full pension. Age wouldn't have anything to do with it."

UAW President Walter P. Reuther has scored some notable firsts in negotiating industrial contracts: a guaranteed annual income, a cost-of-living escalator and a $400 monthly pension at age 60 among them.

But whether he would go along with a hard-and-fast demand for a "30 and Out" plan remains to be seen. A lot would depend upon how much rank and file pressure Wagner and his associates could generate.

In the past, Reuther has fought against conventions tying his hands in advance on specific issues, urging that negotiators be allowed flexibility.

Mild Backing Seen

There was mild backing for a "30 and Out" demand raised at the UAW's 1966 convention in Long Beach, Calif. But the proposal finally was shelved on Reuther's plea for flexibility and a promise to make higher pensions (which he won) a major 1967 issue. Wagner was not a delegate to that convention.

"Not just the older men are interested in '30-and-Out,'" Wagner said. "The younger people are, too, because they see it opening up a lot of new jobs to them."

Under current contracts with General Motors, Ford and Chrysler, it is possible for a UAW member with 30 years service to retire at 60 on a $400 monthly pension.

When social security cuts in at 65, however, the early retiree reverts to a regular pension at $5.50, $5.75 or $6.00 for each year of service, the amount depending upon his wage at retirement.

Workers with 10 years or more service may retire at 65 with $5.50, $5.75 or $6 for each year of service, plus social security. Retirement is mandatory at 68, with the pension scale remaining the same.

Retirement at a lower rate is possible at 55 for any employee with 30 years service.

To be eligible for a pension a worker must have at least 10 years service.

State Vets Cited

LANSING (AP)—Gov. William Milliken has cited the more than one million Michigan veterans "actively engaged in continuing their dedication to the ideals of American citizenship to strengthen the bulwarks of our prized national freedom." The governor proclaimed Nov. 11 as Veterans Day 1969 and said the day would be one on which all Americans should offer thanks to the men and women veterans who have made personal sacrifices to help preserve freedom.

Sec. Hare Set To Quit: Report

LANSING (AP)—Secretary of State James M. Hare, who has served an unprecedented seven terms, will announce his retirement from elective politics, "in a few days," the Grand Rapids Press reports.

In a story by Bud Vestal of its Lansing staff, the Press Wednesday said Hare's decision is partially due to two heart attacks he has suffered.

However, the newspaper's story said Hare also wants to announce his retirement in the near future to head off any aspiring young Democrats interested in his job and to give his assistant, William N. Hettiger, time to become widely known so that he can run for the office.

The secretary of state could not be reached for comment on the report.

However, Hettiger said, "I don't know that anybody has got under consideration retirement. The question really is whether or not he'll be a candidate for reelection."

"I think because of the amount of inquiry to the secretary of state that he may well shortly—it could be longer than a couple of days—have some announcement, just to respond to all these inquiries," Hettiger said.

Hare was first elected in 1954. Since then, he has installed the point system for traffic violations, created an uninsured motorists fund and appointed the first "ombudsman" on the state payroll.

He ran for governor in 1960 but was defeated in the Democratic primary by then Lt. Gov. John B. Swainson who won the election.

Hare named the 43-year-old Hettiger as his deputy in June 1968 and backed his bid to become chairman of the Democratic State Convention, which failed earlier this year.

Ninth Graders Get Tuberculin Tests

LANSING (AP)—Tuberculin skin testing for all Michigan ninth graders—"it doesn't hurt a bit," say two 14-year-olds—is being promoted by state and voluntary health officials.

"Ninth grade students have been selected because the bulk of the teenagers are still in school at this time," explains Dr. John Isbister, chief of the community health bureau, state Department of Public Health.

"Testing students at this age level provides an indirect index of the TB problem in their families and in the communities in relation to the infecting of children by adults."

PLANTING TREES
FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—The Kentucky Division of Forestry hopes to increase the number of tree seedlings planted next year to 15 million. The division says 10,000,000 seedlings were distributed this year to restock eroding land.

LUNG CENTER
FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—Dr. I. E. Buff of Charleston, W. Va., crusader against black lung in coal miners, has proposed establishment of a state laboratory at Frankfort to examine suspected cases of the disease.

MANISTIQUE Fact-Finding Group To Hear Area Needs

A special fact-finding mission will be in Manistique on Wednesday to hear presentations on the immediate and future needs of this area. The mission, appointed by Gov. William Milliken, will be headed by Richard E. Whitmer, director of Michigan's Department of Commerce.

The group will arrive at the Schoolcraft County airport and tour the Manistique Pulp and Paper Company before a noon luncheon at the Fireside Inn. Prior to the luncheon, a presentation of local needs in the areas of recreation and tourism will be presented by Ralph Gillam.

Following the lunch-treat luncheon, presentations will be heard from School Superintendent Edwin E. Wuehle, education; Frank S. Hoholik, president, Manistique Pulp and Paper Company, industry and resources; city manager Robert Noe, pollution and civic needs; and David Kelly, MTIQ radio, communications and transportation.

Invitations have been issued to civic and governmental officials to attend the luncheon at which other community needs may be presented.

Commenting on the tour — which will involve other Upper Peninsula communities — Gov. Milliken said: "The immediate pressing problems of the Upper Peninsula demand a cooperative and creative relationship between state and local governments and the future development of such a relationship will be among the objectives of Mr. Whitmer's mission."

Other Schuster of Manistique Pulp and Paper Company has been designated local host-coordinator for the Manistique visit.

The fact finding mission will begin its tour in Sault Ste. Marie on Monday then spend Tuesday in Munising and Marquette. The group leaves Manistique at 3:30 Wednesday for Escanaba where they will attend an Upper Great Lakes Regional Commission meeting on Thursday and then head for Iron Mountain, Iron River and Ironwood. Friday it will be in Houghton and Hancock and Menominee and leave for Lansing following a Saturday breakfast meeting in Menominee.

Town Meeting Scheduled Here

The Schoolcraft County area will take part in a "Town Meeting of the Air" series this winter to discuss concerns that are shared by communities throughout the Upper Peninsula.

Attending a Town Meeting planning session last week were Mrs. J. P. Quick, Ralph Gillam, Mrs. Paul Larson, Rev. Ingmar Levin, Mrs. Ludwig Hough, Fred Lesica, Robert Noe, Edwin E. Wuehle and press and radio representatives. The meeting was also attended by chairman Howard Handorf, who with Dick Bonifas is local head of the planning committee; Ray Gummerson, MSU Cooperative Extension; Jim Gooch, MSU Continuing Education; and Bruce Turner, WNNR-TV, Marquette.

The project represents a unique blending of modern communications media and the traditional town meeting concept and will be tested this winter to attempt to break Upper Peninsula distance and communications barriers. Meetings in 32 U.P. communities will be connected by television and telephone networks to share social, health, economic and other community concerns and deliberate possible solutions, without leaving their home communities.

Beginning on Dec. 9, the network of local meetings will be held in conjunction with live telecasting over WNNR-TV, Northern Michigan University's public television network.

Local coordinators will chair each town meeting. They will also work with media representatives and other community leaders to identify problems to be debated on Dec. 9 and during two successive programs. The community concerns survey will be completed over the next two months, according to Handorf and Bonifas, temporary chairmen of the planning committee.

The project is sponsored by the U.P. Council of College Field Services which includes Michigan Technological University, Northern Michigan University, Lake Superior State College, the University of Michigan, Bay de Noc Community College, Gogebic Community College, and Michigan State University in its membership. Support is also being given by the U.P. Commission for Area Progress (UPCAP) and Operation Action-U.P.

The area planning committee will meet again within the next two weeks, according to the co-chairmen.

Church Events

St. Martin's Circle
Mrs. William Wedegartner entertained Circle members recently at a potluck supper at her Dodge Lake cottage with Mrs. Eva Besner assisting hostess.

Officers were elected with Mrs. Ben Mulhaupt, president; Mrs. Besner, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. John Ozanich, reporter. Duties were assigned for the Elks Round-up supper which the Circle will serve on Sept. 20.

Game awards went to Mrs. Mae Barker, Mrs. Neil Nygard, Mrs. Fred Lesica and Mrs. Jasper Laurion. Mrs. Barker will hostess the October meeting with Mrs. John Ozanich as co-hostess.

Conservation Tour Planned

A tour of recent conservation and crop developments on four area farms is planned for Saturday by the directors of the Schoolcraft County Soil Conservation District.

The tour will get underway at 1:30 with a visit to the Karl Krumrey residence, Indian Lake, where wildlife ponds will be viewed and discussed. The second stop will be the Boyd Briggs property, also on Indian Lake, to look at various herbicide treatments on Scotch Pine and White Spruce seedlings planned as Christmas trees.

The third stop will be the Charles Matchinski farm on M-94 where Matchinski will discuss his greenhouse enterprise — both flowers and vegetables as planting stock.

The fourth and final stop will be the James Hoholik farm in Thompson where the commercial aspects of a trout pond for free fishing will be discussed. A corn roast will also be served.

Lumber Grading Course To Open

HOUGHTON—Advance registration is in progress for a short course on hardwood lumber grading Sept. 22-26, sponsored by Michigan Technological University's Institute of Wood Research and the Northern Hardwoods Division of the Copper Range Co.

The course will be conducted at the Northern Hardwoods Division's mill in South Range, just south of Houghton. It is designed to give basic instruction in the rules for grading of northern hardwood lumber as well as actual practice grading. The course will serve as a refresher for experienced graders and as an introduction for other sawmill workers, yardmen and salesmen.

Persons interested in attending should contact the Institute of Wood Research, Michigan Technological University, Houghton.

Electric Association: State Meeting Scheduled Here

Escanaba will be host to the Michigan Municipal Electric Association's fall meeting on Sept. 17, 18 and 19, with an anticipated 80 persons attending. The House of Ludington will be conference headquarters.

Parry Baer of Croswell, Association president, will conduct the general sessions and there will be discussions concerned primarily with municipal electric operations. Escanaba is one of a number of Michigan cities owning electric generating - distribution systems.

It is anticipated that a visitor to the conference will be Rep. Richard A. Young, chairman of the House Public Utilities Committee.

The local arrangements have been made with the assistance of William Van Effen, superintendent of Escanaba's electric department. Van Effen has been a member of the Association board for many years.

Wednesday afternoon will include a panel discussion session for the delegates, and the ladies will be entertained at an art exhibit at the Escanaba Library.

Thursday's program includes a luncheon with Earl Brush of Lansing speaking; tour of the generating plant for the men; a special entertainment—"The Elliott Letters"—for the women at the Chamber of Commerce building; and Jean Worth, former Daily Press editor, will address the dinner meeting at the Ludington Thursday night.

Friday will be devoted to business sessions, a luncheon at which Don Potter will speak. Potter is the Association's executive secretary.

Dutch merchants in the 17th century started the modern sea-shell craze by returning from the East Indies with rare and beautiful shells. Cultivated and fashionable Europeans assembled "cabinets," large rooms containing shells, minerals, bones and other natural curiosities.

WHAT IS THE COMMUNITY SCHOOL?

A community school is a school whose doors swing open to serve the educational, recreational, and cultural needs of the community. The school becomes a neighborhood center in the late afternoon, evenings, and on Saturdays. The community becomes stronger as people share their skills, ideas and problems.

WHY THE COMMUNITY SCHOOL?

No longer does the school remain empty, dark and unused for two-thirds of its life. The community school has the potential to more than double the hours of use for a very small cost.

The community school enlists the aid of people in the community to staff its classes. Through the services of teachers, parents, businessmen, college students, senior citizens and other individuals the community school can offer creative programs covering almost any topic.

In today's scientific age one thing is crystal clear. Education in America must be continuous and never ending; for adults as well as children; for poor as well as the rich; the practical hard working laborer as well as the intellectual.

World peace begins when neighbor understands neighbor. Our schools are institutions created by the people. Let's use them!

—REGISTRATION—

Register by phone by calling 425-3321 Monday through Friday, or stop in at the community school office. Evening registration will be held the week of September 15th at the high school.
